Body Had Been in Water at Least a Week According to Coroner Shapleigh.

The body of John Costing a first class fireman attached to the survey ship "Hannibal" was found this morning in the river among the eel grass between the highway and railroad bridges leading to the navy yard by the crew of one of the boats owned by James Boardman. The body was pulled ashore and coroner Shapleigh called who after viewing the same ordered it turned over to the naval authorities at the navy yard hospital. The coroner stated that the body had been in the water about a week and showed some abrasion on the neck and face from pounding against the rocks. His shoes and cap were missing. The man who found the body believed that Costing walked overboard and that the body has been held in the thick marine growth in the place where it went down. The dead man enlisted in New York and comes from Freeport, Ill. He is 20 years of age and came to the "Hannibal" three weeks ago from the receiving ship "Hancock" and has been missing about a week.

OLD HOME DAY EXERCISES

Dr. J. L. M. Willis Chairman of General Committee.

Many Absent Sons and Daughters Gather at Eliot to Celebrate Event.

Although a sharp shower delayed inhabitants therefore have been with the Eliot Old Home Week exercises. Wednesday afternoon for upwards of an hour. It did not dampen the ardor of the exercise. Modes of life have changed and her sons and daughters gathered from all parts of the country to assist in the exercises were held on the lawn in front of the William Fogg memorial library. Judge Aaron B. Cole was master of ceremonies and as usual

AARON B. COLE,
Master of Ceremonies

acquitted himself in a very pleasing manner.

The principal speaker was Hon. George B. Leighton, of Dublin, N. H., who spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Townspeople of Eliot and Guests:

I take it that it is not the part of obligation of a speaker to tell why he should have been selected. It may be that his name was the first to come out of the hat so to speak, or it may have been drawn last after the previous ones had said they had other affairs to attend to. So I know of no reason why your committee should have asked me, much as I appreciate the honor, unless it was to find some one of Eliot stock and descent who in the ranks of life is today endeavoring to do merely a yeoman's work for good citizenship and good government. Such was the character of the earlier settlers in Sturgeon Creek parish and continued to be and I might say is today. You know that my name has been for two hundred and fifty years an Eliot name and such the case, the greater honor is being asked to address you a few moments.

That interesting chronicler of the town, Dr. Willis, tells us that Kittery was the first and oldest town in what is now the state of Maine. It embraced two parishes and what was known as Sturgeon Creek became after a row in the family, Eliot. The exercises were held on the lawn in front of the William Fogg memorial library. Judge Aaron B. Cole was master of ceremonies and as usual

Let us remember this and apply the conditions of their lives to ours today to see if we may gain some light on problems now confronting us. The problem or question of waste and saving are what I have particularly in mind.

Prior to the middle of the nineteenth century the effort for economy and to avoid waste was general throughout New England. Few had

Consider Your Baby's Comfort

When you take the little fellow out for a ride in the open air during the hot summer, don't make him ride in a cart that is stuffy and padded on all sides so that he will be hot and uncomfortable.

Get one of those cool leather lined collapsible carts that are handy for you and convenient for him. They don't take up much space, they are ball bearing, move about easily, are graceful, attractive and work well anywhere.

A POSSIBLE CANDIDATE

Col. George B. Leighton of Monmouth was a visitor here on Wednesday and called on many local friends. He was en route from Eliot to his home.

There is considerable talk among Mr. Leighton's friends to urge him to enter the contest for U. S. senator. He is a business man and thoroughly interested in the development of the state, and it is claimed he would make an excellent compromise candidate.

Edward T. Dwyer of the manufacturing department of the navy yard who has been restricted to his home for the past week with rheumatism has returned to work.

P. A. C. PLAY EXHIBITION GAME

Catholic Union Fail to Show Up and Picked Team Play.

The Portsmouth Catholic Union picked Sheridan and Howard, Attorneys, to play for their game with the P. A. C. in the Sunset League on Wednesday evening and after some delay rather than disappoint the large crowd which was present, a picked team with five members of the P. C. U. was got together and played an exhibition game of three innings and it furnished lots of fun.

Kincade did the pitching for the picked team and when he could locate the plate so that Heffernan could get them, he was effective. He passed the first four men up and two passed balls and a wild pitch resulted in two runs. Once he got the plate located he struck out five men. Weare only allowed one hit and a pass.

The picked team scored two runs in the fourth, on a hit, and two passed balls. The game was called at the end of the first half of the fourth inning on account of darkness.

The score.

What Is Happening In the Harbor Town.

The Good Luck Whist Club was pleasantly entertained by Mr. Percy S. Tobey on Wednesday afternoon, prizes being awarded as follows: 1st, Mrs. Ames Amee; 2nd, Mrs. George Gunnison; 3d, Mrs. Ernest Tobey; 4th, Mrs. Vernon Smith.

Mrs. S. L. Favour of East Boston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Favour.

Jesse Sawyer has purchased a horse from Woodbury Trafton.

An entertainment will be held at the Free Baptist church on Wednesday evening next, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. "The Courtship of Miles Standish" will be presented in tableaux, together with other attractions. Refreshments of various kinds will also be on sale.

William Amee of North Kittery was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Favour is confined to her home by illness.

Mark W. Keene has been enjoying a short vacation from his duties at the navy yard.

Arrived, steam yacht Kehtoh, Roswell Eldredge, owner New York for Bar Harbor, schooner yacht Inden, Edward Lovering, owner, Marlborough for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drew are visiting relatives in South Eliot.

Mrs. Edward Gorish of South Berwick was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clarkson on Wednesday.

Frank Locke is able to be about again after his recent accident.

Mr. and Mrs. James Adams with two daughters and Miss Bernice Irish have returned to Dover, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Judson G. Irish.

Until relieved by the thunder squall in the early afternoon, Wednesday was one of the most oppressive days of this season at the point. For fifteen minutes after the squall struck the harbor presented an appearance heretofore unknown this summer but the wind soon abated.

Miss Mary McDougall of Sabers, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Dodge.

Charles Bartlett and son Lawrence of Auburn, Me., have been passing a week at his former home here. He has been the guest of Mrs. Horace Bartlett.

Hauser, St. Louis Cardinals' Little Shotstop, Playing Wonderful Game

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—Baseball critics all along the National League circuit are of opinion that Hauser of the St. Louis Nationals, barring Hans Wagner, is the greatest shotstop in the game today. Since the season opened the Cardinals' little infielder has played a sensational game. His playing against Brooklyn and New York recently was nothing short of marvelous. In one game he had eleven assists. Hauser covers more ground than any shotstop in the game.

acquired any considerable wealth and the food supplies were raised at home. The development of transportation, opening the fertile fields of the West and the development of manufactures in New England brought a changed condition. One part of the country raised what the other required for food and it in turn manufactured what those who farmed in the West needed to wear and to till the land. These conditions continue today with some modification. The West or Middle West is beginning to manufacture and slowly an increasing food supply is being raised nearer home to us. I shall not mention the cause of the rise in food for it is due to many reasons and people forget that the very cheap food of thirty years ago meant bankruptcy to the Western farmer—an echo of which New England received in the defaulted farm mortgages which they held. Another forgotten reason is the enormous consumption of corn and oats in new ways such as the manufacture of glucose, breakfast cereals, etc. What corn a Peoria glucose factory uses would fatten an army of hogs, but the factory can pay more for the corn than the farmer to fat hogs at present. A further rise in fat hogs may change this. These are mere illustrations of the complexity of the problem. We have not recognized and seem unable to recognize the lack or under-current which demands that we here in New England proceed to increase the amount of our own agricultural production, or food supply. This means first the recognition of agriculture as a science—the adaptation of that science to our home lands which with high prices will warrant the bright fellows staying on and tilling up farms. Transportation is cheap, very cheap, but we must produce food nearer to the point of consumption. That seems to me is the first and great economic step. Let us consider that and then others. While flower culture is not directly food, it is nevertheless utilization of land. Do you know that right near here at Mud-bury, near Durham, a rose grower has located because he found the soil and conditions the very best in all the New England and Central States? There wasn't any sentiment about it, for he was a Western man and he explained many soils throughout the entire eastern country. Here is a great undeveloped resource and if the same thing had happened in Idaho or Southern California, there would have been booklets and pamphlets galore urging others to go into the industry. Now one of the necessities of rose culture is fresh cow manure, so that dairymen would be stimulated by an increased amount of rose culture. You have an asset you don't realize in the climate's adaptation to the growing of winter flowers. Our early cool nights bring plants to a condition for winter blooming earlier than the late autumns of the vicinity of New York. There ought to be a thousand rose and violet growers within twenty miles of Portsmouth. We are wasting acres of productive land.

Again, New England consumes some $25,000,000 of poultry a year and raises but a fifth of it. Did anybody ever say that any climate was better for poultry than this and with such a market right at hand? No, the trouble isn't with the rocky soil nor with this air, but with men. If the average man would study poultry as he studies electricity or mechanics, he would make a better living out of poultry and furnish a better home for a growing family. I might go on and speak of apples and truck farming, forestry, but I have just pointed out two industries which can be exploited with unquestioned success hereabouts and they are absolutely neglected. We are wasting great natural resources.

Let me say a word about another form of wasted energy. Formerly, and I refer to days when towns were smaller, the families of artisans lived on the outskirts; they had a garden and generally kept a cow. The children cared for these and reduced materially the family outlay for food. Then the big mills came and the tenement. There was no means of quick transportation to and from the town for a laboring man and he was forced to live in a tenement. A change has come in this, with the electric car and bicycle he can live two or three miles out, have a home with a garden or possibly keep a cow. Let me tell you what these families were not using these plots of land but were buying everything. They offered prizes for crops raised by these laborers in the neglected gardens, and to make a long story short, within two years the average assistance toward the family sustenance from the gardens was over one hundred dollars for the entire number. I believe there are two similar effort in New England. There should be in every state, for the effort is on right lines and it must do good by calling attention to existing waste and lack of productivity. Again every new family receiving livelihood from agriculture is a gain on the right side, and further, we know that the farmer is a home maker, a family builder and a producer of good citizens. Industrial development produces wealth, but with it a carelessness of wealth and a universal wastefulness. Let any careful observer go through a town or city and he is oppressed by the waste of food—directly and indirectly—waste of material and waste of energy. With good roads and good schools, together with the other factors which have removed to a large extent the isolation of the farm, such as the telephone and rural delivery, many townspeople will till the land if a little effort is made to show the advantages of an agricultural life.

And now as to some larger units or wastes of present life. Till quite recently all the coke made in this country was made in open ovens so that nothing but coke was made and valuable by-products were wasted in smoke. The condition is changing but an eminent German authority, Dr. Caro, said last year that about a quarter of a million dollars daily was being wasted by these old ovens in the Pittsburgh district alone. One of these by-products is of great value as a fertilizer—sulphate of ammonia.

So we are letting the flood waters run down the rivers of New England, requiring mills which should be entirely water driven to have steam auxiliary power. An important beginning of a changed condition is that of the Aziscoogus dam at the headquarters of the Androscoggin where a great lake has been made to hold the spring waters and balance the flow of the river for Berlin and Lewiston. The waters which go over the dams in March should be held in storage to turn the wheels in August. Every New England state should have a commission to study the prevention of such waste.

Again, we waste a large percentage of every tree cut in our forests and much can be done to obviate this, but it requires effort and public-spirited effort on the part of the most intelligent citizens.

In the government of our cities, we have gross extravagance and waste. Through the bureau of municipal efficiency in New York, much has been accomplished and those interested in municipal affairs should familiarize themselves with that work. In one department, that of sewers, Mr. Fosdick, the commissioner of accounts, figures the waste at fifty per cent of the labor bill or upwards of seven millions. In another department, forty per cent has been wasted, due to lack of organization and business methods.

In a newspaper item of the day, I see that Secretary Wilson says that the loss of revenue or income to the egg producers of the country is over forty millions, due solely to ignorance of packing and a proper preparation and selection of eggs for market. How long can we stagger under such conditions? No wonder food is high and the cost of living increasing for that and other reasons. Inefficiency, waste, extravagance, are not pleasant terms to be held up as among our national characteristics. We are today the most extravagant nation on earth and the trait is becoming fixed in the younger generation. Every one must about face and do what he can to change this condition or dire distress awaits us. It has seemed on this occasion that recalling our ancestors we might properly dwell upon their thrift and frugality not only as necessities of good citizenship but traits which led to happier and more contented lives.

Other speakers were Edwin E. Hanson, of Philadelphia, William F. Crafts of Washington, Dr. John T. Neal of Portsmouth, and Dr. Frederick Wallace Abbott of Taunton, Mass. Following the exercises a collation was served to all present. At 6 o'clock a series of folk dances by the young women from the Bungalow camp was given in the evening there was a band concert from 8 to 10.

Today's program. This is the big day of the celebration and the principal event will be the annual parade which will start at 10 a. m. on the State road to Ball Hill road to Welch's Corner. In the afternoon at 2.30, the John P. Hill grange will present Mrs.

The Atlanta Constitution remarks that said is the lot of the weather man. When in response to a mighty demand he turns off the heat he gets a swat from the farmers.

The New Haven Register says another train the so called cannon ball express between Galveston and St. Louis, has suffered the third successive wreck in a short time. And yet they blame railroad men for being superstitious.

The Brooklyn Times says may it not be wise for Gov. Wilson to "be all things to all men" and while in Rome to do as Romans do? Why not be a prohibitionist in Maine and a local optionist or free license advocate in the states according to local demands? The bull moose candidate solved the negro question in this wise, and has even taken a hand at woman's suffrage. Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt in his rich political experience, has found the public more gullible than Gov. Wilson suspects.

The Newark Star says no one who travels through the woodland and sea coast regions of New Jersey and keeps his eyes open can fail to notice how many bungalow colonies are springing up. It is not a mere summer resort idea. The occupants of many of these picturesque little dwellings built them for year round residences. The bungalow dweller figures that the rental, say from $25 to $50 a month, that he has been paying for a city flat will meet the interest on a sum sufficient to purchase a bungalow with a good sized plot that will afford him all the comforts and conveniences he needs with the added healthfulness and joy of country life.

Current Opinion

Sound Political Sense

There is so much of sound political sense in an editorial from the Boston Advertiser that special attention is called to it.

As was said by the Union three weeks ago the situation in this state as regards the republican party is such as to call for the broadest minded leadership; a time for consideration, not recrimination; a time for the toleration of the opinion of other party members and a strong purpose for a united party without the sacrifice of essential principles and policies; there is no reason for a disrupted party here, of all states in the Union.

It has had its differences and they have been most marked during the past six years, but through it all the registered will of the majority has prevailed and the party has remained united. And in no part of the country has more marked progress been made in the direction of placing party affairs in the hands of party members and public affairs in the hands of the people, and all through the instrumentality of the republican party.

Corporations have been driven out of party politics and they have apparently accepted the verdict in good spirit, for they were very much in political work and control; the direct primary gives the people opportunity for making nominations as the majority will; public service corporations have been placed under efficient control as to rates and service; a workmen's compensation plan has been given legal sanction; a rigid child labor law has been enacted; legislative lobbies have been regulated, and in short no state has excelled New Hampshire in its progressive legislation and politics, and for it the republican party is to be credited.

Having taken that advanced ground it remains for it to ensure the people the benefits of their effective administration. It is obvious such results cannot be achieved by disrupting the party. Such wise leadership is urgent as will prevent it. It can be done if the gravity of the situation is realized and sound political sense will be allowed to prevail, such sense as was utilized in the earlier days of the party, when any other course would have meant its defeat.

Who can give a good sound reason why a third party to be taken from republican party here should be established? and a party cannot be established unless voters lend their support.—Manchester Union.

Bryan and Roosevelt

Mr. Bryan is not to trail Mr. Roosevelt on the stump. Too bad. It was generally hoped he would. The arrangement seemed to assure much highly-spiced entertainment.

But why not a joint debate? What a stir that would make. What crowds would pour in from far and near! What a racket would mark every meeting! How thrills would be taxed and palms blistered! The Bull Mooses against the Bryanites. Rough assertion against smooth declamation.

Still, Mr. Roosevelt, because of temperament, might be at a disadvantage. Joint debate on the stump calls for calmness, caution, courtesy. Each participant must accredit the other with sincerity and good purpose. Could Mr. Roosevelt meet the demand? Would there not be danger of his lapsing into the characteristics which have marked him as a writer and a monologist on the platform?

He has never since leaving school engaged in joint debate of any consequence. His service in the New York assembly some thirty years ago was short, and did not develop his powers. Since then his duties have been executive, and on his stumping tours he has had no immediate challenger. The sole attraction at his meetings has been himself.

Mr. Bryan, on the contrary, has measured swords with folks in Congress and on the hustings. He is a very ready man, hard to down, or to keep down when downed. He gave his party a taste of his quality recently at Baltimore. The confusion was great and the feeling high, but he met the emergency. When the clashes were over Mr. Bryan had reason to be satisfied with the results.

For sixteen years, however, he has been in the main a monologist, and had everything his own way at his meetings. A sufficient attraction in himself, he has packed halls and forty-acre fields with people, eager, not to hear a debate, but to hear him.

This long experience may have its effect on Mr. Bryan as a debater. He may not be today as ready or as pungent as he would be if during all those years he had been faced with an antagonist, with a keen and quick tongue in his head, disputing his points upon the instant, and putting Mr. Bryan to his trumps right along.

Still, a joint debate between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt in this campaign would be a great thing in the way of entertainment. Think of the red-eyed radical of sixteen years ago, now transformed into a mild-eyed conservative, pitted against the mild-eyed conservative of sixteen years ago now transformed into a red-eyed radical!—Washington Star.

Scenes In Connecticut War Maneuvers; Camp of the Invaders---Men at Breakfast.

Photos copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

New York is getting war news these days, but it is a different kind of war news than that received fifty years ago at the same time of year. Half a century ago the reports were of a big battle at Colquhoun Court House, Va. It was horribly real news of actual battles. The war news of August, 1912, is the movements of some 20,000 regulars and national guardsmen who are engaged in maneuvers in Connecticut, the capture of New York being the object in view. This year's war is fought with an umpire. His decision as to whether one or the other of the armies has accomplished certain strategical maneuvers will determine whether the attacking or the defending force has won.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT DE MERITT FUND

Well Known Young Men Have Benefited from These Scholarships.

Mrs. Martha A. DeMeritt, widow of Samuel M. DeMeritt, died in this city Feb. 16, 1872. Her will had the following bequest:

"I give, devise and bequeath unto the Portsmouth Savings Bank the sum of Four Thousand Dollars, to have and hold the same forever, in trust, however, to the following named uses and purposes:—The interest to be used and appropriated for two scholarships for indigent young men from said Portsmouth at college and while in college, the beneficiaries to be selected by the pastors for the time being of the Unitarian, Episcopal, Orthodox, Methodist, Baptist, Free will Baptist, and Christian churches in said Portsmouth, together with one lay member of each of said churches, who shall be chosen by the members of their respective churches as often as there is an appointment of a scholarship to be made. The scholarship in no case shall be conferred on a person who uses profane or indecent language, strong drink or tobacco in any form."

This fund had accumulated, in 1872, by the addition of the interest, to five thousand dollars, which remains on deposit at the Portsmouth Savings Bank, the entire dividends being applied to two scholarships and the contingent expenses.

In 1910, there was added to this fund the bequest of the will of J. Louis Harris of one thousand dollars, the income of which is applied to a separate scholarship. And thus there are now three beneficiaries of the fund.

The first meeting of the Board having the matter in charge was called at the study of Rev. James DeNormandie Sept. 10, 1875, the members being Rev. James DeNormandie, Joseph A. Grace, Unitarian; Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, Lyman D. Spalding, Episcopal; John S. Rand, Orthodox; Rev. Wm. H. Alden, D. D., Lewis W. Brewster, Baptist; Rev. Gleason Owen, Moses Plummer, Free will Baptist, and Mr. Joseph H. Foster, Trustee under the will, by decree of the Court.

Rev. James DeNormandie was chosen president, and Lewis W. Brewster, clerk, which office he has continued to hold up to the present time.

Sam. Walter Foss was one of the first two selected as beneficiaries, the other was Arthur Edward Gage. These were chosen in 1878. Since then the list stands as follows:

1882, Charles Albert Davis, Ism H. Leven; 1883, Joseph Trowbridge, Cunningham; 1886, Arthur H. Locke; 1887, Clarence Elwood Montgomery; 1889, A. Clifton Leach; 1890, Harry S. Bakelot; 1892, Harry A. Watts, Ralph H. Cheever; 1893, Walter H. James; 1896, D. Bertrand Trefethen; 1896, William H. Leslie; 1898, Herbert Leonard Taylor; 1899, S. Walter Hoyt; 1900, Fred W. Gentleman, Harry L. Muchmore; 1903, Earnest H. Ballou; 1894, Frank W. Randall; 1905, Joseph A. Wiggin; 1907, Dwight T. Reed; 1909, Maurice N. Richards, A. McPheters; 1910, Alfred E. Gray, Walter H. Junkins; 1911, J. Philip Palmer.

AN ARMY OF CLOWNS WILL BE HERE

The Great London Shows Consolidated present, along with their comedy department this year numerous prominent jesters, commonly called "clowns." Delfugo is the principal jester, and associated with him are 45 kings of the clowning world. Along with these funny chaps, others also assist with comical antics.

When intermingling with citizens on the street none of them would be suspected of wearing the loose robes of a fool, but when they are in the ring, with their makeups on, they laugh and the crowd laughs with them. A jolly lot, and they have certainly helped to unload at least temporarily the cares from the minds of thousands of people.

Clowning is an art of itself, the best clowns are born, not made. The jester-making department of the Great London Shows is fully up to the high standard of its other departments; in fact, many a person will testify to the statement that the clowns with this show are worth the price of admission. Their work is appreciated, as the present strenuous life of most people causes them to relish a little pure nonsense now and then.

Everything in all departments of the Great London Circus this year is positively new, refreshing and up-to-date.

This splendid circus will be seen in this city on August 21.

THE BIRTH OF THE BULLMOOSE—OCRACY

With apologies to Anonymous, author of "Independence Bell." There was tumult in Chicago, In the windy western town, And the streets were full of people, Showing restlessly around; People gathering at corners, While they whispered tense and low Inquiring of each other, What some other one might know.

Will they do it? Dare they do it? Has he got there? What's the word? What of Dixon? What of Perkins? What's the latest? Have you heard? Stand aside there; Let me nearer! I am stifling! Still then! When a principles a hazard We've no time to think of men.

So they beat against the portal Of the great convention hall, And the August sun in heaven Looked down coolly on them all The sun that saw the Spartan Shed his patriot blood in vain Now beholds the sign of progress, Still unconquered rise again.

See! See! The dense crowd quivers Throughout its lengthy line, As a man inside the portal Passes out the joyous sign That the Colonel's nomination, With no bolting and no fuss, Nor with any opposition, Had been made unanimous.

Hushed the people's murmur, List the man's exultant cry; Whoop! Whoop! he shouts, you people!

For the bull moose, now or die, Then quickly at this signal, With a rush and roar and jar, The peepers rose and shouted, Not for the party, but T. R. How they shouted! What rejoicing! How they fairly shook the air Till the Taft and Wilson forces Mightily nearly got a scare.

The convention hall is silent, Hushed the shouts with which it rung, And the party it awakened, Is at present most low young To predict its future progress, But the chances are forlorn Of its having greater glory Than that of being born.

MOTOR BOAT WRECKED BY EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE

Had to Be Scuttled to Save Union
Wharf From Fire--Owner Burned
By Explosion.

The motor boat "Dash" owned by R. L. Keating of Newton, caught fire while at the Stewart motor boat garage at Union wharf on Wednesday evening, and to save the boat and prevent the spread of the flames to the wharf it was necessary to scuttle the craft.

The motor boat with the owner and John Sampson, James King and Misses Blanche King and Dorothy Sampson were cruising along the coast on Tuesday they came from Marblehead to this city and tied up to a mooring last night. Wednesday morning they discovered that the vibration of the engine had opened a seam in the boat and she was leaking badly. The craft was beached at Four Tree Island and they made their own repairs, and later in the afternoon hauled her across to Stewart's wharf.

They pumped the boat out and after the water was out, Keating started to go into the cabin and to see his way lighted a match. The minute he did there was a loud explosion which could be heard for some distance and a sheet of flames shot out of the cabin, burning Keating about the hands.

The women were on the wharf and only Keating was injured. A still alarm was sent in for the Chemical engine and in the meanwhile the flames were making considerable headway and threatened to extend to the wharf. There were fifteen gallons of gasoline in the tank aboard the boat and Chas. Stewart saw that something had to happen quick. He grabbed a sledge hammer and in a few seconds the boat was scuttled and sank drowning out the flames except that of the floating gasoline. The Chemical arrived at this time and completed the job of checking the fire.

It appears that there was a leak in the gasoline pipe and when the water was pumped out it allowed the fumes of the gasoline to fill the cabin. Mr. Keating's burns are not severe and he will keep about.

Later in the evening the boat was hauled over to Dick O'Brien's ways and hauled up and today will be repaired. The party will return to their homes in Newton by train.

SCRUBBING BRUSH AT DOOR

Good and Cheap Cleanser in Muddy Weather--Some Other More or Less Helpful Hints.

A large, coarse scrubbing brush hanging near the kitchen door is a good and cheap cleanser in muddy weather, especially when the children are running in and out.

Glycerine is the best lubricant for the meat and vegetable grinder, for the reason that it does not leave unpleasant odor if brought into contact with the meat.

Now is the time of year when chlorides of lime should be utilized in generous quantities.

Iron rust may be removed from white goods by boiling the articles in water containing cream of tartar, allowing three tablespoonsful to a gallon. This is more effective than lemon juice and salt.

To remove mildew from curtains wet them in clear water, then rub well and plentifully with laundry soap, after which put on a liberal coating of table salt and hang in the sun. Renew the treatment from day to day. If the mildew is bad it may take some time, but it is sure.

A pinch of borax put into the water with fresh cut flowers will make them last longer in hot weather.

Always lay a shirt on the table while packing, as it is most important that it should be kept flat.

JAPS IMPORT THEIR BRIDES

Oriental in Hawaii Send All the Way to the Flowery Kingdom for Them.

Kaui, Hawaii.—"No more Orientals of the laboring class are coming to Hawaii, and a good many of our white citizens who cultivate sugar estates are sorry that the faithful Chinese are barred under the law," said W. P. Harcourt, a sugar planter of the island of Kaui, one of the Hawaiian group. "They are our best workers, and before the exclusion policy was applied we could count on a certain regular influx of brawny Mongolians to toil in the cane fields."

"The Chinese now in Hawaii have been there for many years, and most of them are getting to be old men. Not many of the Chinese have wives, but in former days not a few of them became the husbands of the native Kanaka women. It was a good cross, was this half-breed progeny, and so likewise the offspring of the Japanese and native women. In recent times, however, the Japs have been in the habit of sending back to their own land for wives. In most cases I think the self-selected bridegrooms get their parents back in the Flowery Kingdom to pick out wives for them.

"The matter is finally arranged through the Japanese consul, the man in the case putting up money for the passage of his intended spouse. The hour that she lands must also be the wedding hour, for the authorities will not allow the fair ones to remain unless claimed and formally mated according to some civil or religious ceremony that both parties consider binding."

"Every now and then a wireless message comes to my plantation which tells one of my young Japanese hired men that he may expect on the arrival of the next ship at Honolulu the girl who has been picked out as his wife. I do not think that in many cases the principals have ever laid eyes on each other. On the receipt of the message the man gets permission to go to claim his wife, and pretty soon the pair are domesticated on the estate, and my understanding is they get on as happily as if they had known each other from infancy and been wedded in the conventional way of the Caucasians."

"Not long ago a ship from Yokohama arrived with forty or fifty so-called picture brides. Every one of them had been chosen through photographs forwarded to Hawaii some time in advance of the arrival of the originals. Occasionally there is a pathetic case, as when not long ago a very pretty young Japanese maid was forced to take the next ship returning to her old home. Inspection showed that she had trachoma, and the rigid rule that ordered her deportation could not be waived."—Baltimore American.

To make gruel successfully great care must be exercised.

To make patent groats gruel, the required quantity should be mixed very smoothly and carefully with cold water; milk is apt to make it lumpy. When mixed, it should be added to equal quantities of boiling milk and water; boil all gently for 15 or 20 minutes. When done, three parts fill a cup, and serve with cold milk or cream and castor sugar.

THE HOVEY MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN DEDICATED

Presented to City and Accepted By Mayor Badger--Simple But Impressive Exercises.

With simple but impressive services being draped in an American flag and vases, the handsome marble and bronze memorial fountain, presented under a Bowsdown Mate, and erected by Mrs. Louise F. Hovey in memory of her son, Ensign Charles Emerson Hovey, U. S. Navy, killed in action in the Philippine Islands September 24, 1911.

The exercises were held in front of the fountain and there was a good number present including the Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen of the city Council and many others. We are gathered here today to show the Grand Army. The fountain had been erected and affection for and to.

dedicate this fountain to the memory of a son of Portsmouth who had endeavored himself to all who knew him and by his gallant conduct and death upon the field of battle honors to his country and himself.

Mr. Mayor:
It is my privilege to transfer to you from the mother of Charles Emerson Hovey, the following letter of presentation.

To the Honorable Daniel W. Badger, Mayor of Portsmouth.
I desire to present this drinking fountain for your acceptance in behalf of the city of Portsmouth as a memorial to my only son, Charles Emerson Hovey, Ensign U. S. Navy, killed in action in the Philippine Islands September 24, 1911.

As my son lived and died this memorial will, I hope stand ever for the service of others.

Louise Folsom Hovey.
Mayor Daniel W. Badger in behalf of the city accepted the gift, and he said in part.

Mayor Badger Said.

Mrs. Hovey, Ladies and Gentlemen: Representing the city of Portsmouth as its official head I accept, in behalf of its people, this beautiful gift and assure you that its care, protection and maintenance for the future will be zealously guarded and properly attended by the municipality.

In accepting this beautiful and useful gift to the city, I will attempt to speak but briefly in regard to the sad event and occasion which has prompted the erection of this memorial tablet and fountain, as a lasting tribute and memorial to a gallant son of Portsmouth, whose young life was sacrificed in the performance of his duty and in the service of our country.

This will doubtless be spoken of by the speakers who are to follow, therefore it will suffice for me to say that while this whole city sadly commiserates the event which has occasioned this gift to the city, we cherish the memory and are proud of the many qualities and high character of the gallant young officer, who was a native son of Portsmouth and in whose memory this fountain commemorates and to whom it is dedicated.

I assure you that the city at present appreciates and will appreciate in the future the great public usefulness of this beautiful fountain which will doubtless serve generations that are now unborn. And also we appreciate it as a splendid ornament to this public square and building. While the service of this fountain to the public as well as its ornamental use to this public square and public building is unquestionably of material value to this city both at the present time and to the future generations which are to come, I accept this gift today in behalf of the city in the same spirit and for the same purpose to which it is given—to commemorate and to perpetuate the memory, deeds and character of a beloved son of Portsmouth Ensign Charles Emerson Hovey. Again in behalf of the city I thank you.

Captain Frank Bartlett U. S. N. then delivered an eulogy on the life of the young naval officer shot down in the performance of his duties.

He dwelt on the young man's life at the Naval Academy and of the work he did, including the writing of a book, which is of a great value to all sailors, and other things which stamped him as a good officer.

He dwelt on his assignment to the Philippines and pictured the class of people, wicked and treacherous that he had to deal with. He told of the young naval officer being sent with a detachment of scouts and blue jackets to break up the worse of the Moro bands and of his gallant fight to the end. His last words to his hospital attendant, McGuire who went to his aid to "get on the job" and attend to the other injured first. He said that the country was proud of such heroes and the sorrowing mother and

LARGE SUMS PAID FOR POLICE PROTECTION

New York, Aug. 14.—In the search for evidence to convict the murderers of gambler Herman Rosenthal, the district attorney and the grand jury have unearthed a lot of information showing that gamblers and keepers of disorderly houses paid sums aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly for police protection.

Evidence not before the Grand Jury shows that every form of gaming and vice paid a prescribed toll which varied according to the location in the city.

The monthly tariffs paid to the police vary: First-class uptown gambling houses paid $1000; a middle-class gambling house paid $500; East Side gambling houses paid anywhere from $100 to $400; high class poolrooms, $500; while poker dice games paid $200; uptown disorderly houses paid $500, while East Side resorts paid $100.

With the cooperation of all the banks in the city, Dist. Whitman has been able to secure the names of four police inspectors whose bank accounts run into the several hundred thousands. One inspector is said to have accumulated a million dollars. The indictments of these officials are not being pressed at this time, as the district attorney is devoting his chief attention to entrapping the murderers of Rosenthal.

The hunt for other bank accounts of Police Lieut. Becker was resumed today by Dist. Atty. Whitman, who with the aid of the banks of the city, has disclosed that the lieutenant accused of murder has, within the year, deposited $55,845. The district attorney believes that it will be disclosed that Becker has accumulated about $200,000.

Bald Jack Rose in his story before the Grand Jury, is reported to have involved Jack Sullivan, the newsboy king and close friend of Lieut. Becker, in the murder plot.

For the Honor of the Flag.
"Neath the burning tropic sunshine,
A mere handful of brave men
Faced the wild fanatic Moros.
Caged like beasts within their den,
With a courage naught could weaken,
Over rock and mountain crag,
Onward, onward, bravely cheering,
For the honor of the Flag.

Far away from home and kindred,
In that land beyond the seas,
Where the stars and stripes are waving.
In the spicy, tropic breeze,
True to duty, home and country,
Scaling rock and mountain crag,
Onward, onward, death defying,
For the honor of the Flag.

At their head, their brave young leader,
Dashes onward, sword in hand,
Headless of the storm of bullets,
Followed by his valiant band;
In their veins, the blood of heroes
Staining now each mountain crag,
Onward, onward, freely dying,
For the honor of the Flag.

"On your job, boys," cried the leader,
As a bullet laid him low,
"Don't mind me, Don't lose a minute,
Where the Flag goes you must go,
So they left him, pale and dying,
"Neath the shadow of the crag,
Onward upward mudily fighting
For the honor of the Flag.

Now the Flag is proudly floating
Over the Moros' mountain nest;
Now the bugle "Taps" has sounded
And the hero is at rest;
True to duty home and country,
"Neath the shadow of the crag,
Death he found, but fame undying,
For the honor of the Flag.

HEARING POSTPONED

The preliminary hearing of the case of George Caswell, charged with the murder of his wife Laversa, at Plainfield March 12, which Judge Hoyt of Plainfield had planned to hold at the Rockingham county farm at Brentwood on Wednesday, was postponed until later in the week. Caswell is still in the hospital at the county farm under the care of a trained nurse, slowly recovering from the effects of the wounds on his face caused by shots from the gun with which it is alleged he attempted suicide, after killing his wife. During the first six weeks he was at the hospital he was unable to partake of solid food owing to the serious condition of his wounds. Although his wounds are nearly healed he will be discharged for the remainder of his life, there being a large hole in the right side of his face.

The hearing of his case will be the first of the kind held at the institution. Caswell for a number of years resided in Epping, his native town.

Rose is said to have declared that Sullivan, after riding around the city on the night of the murder with Lieut. Becker went to Webster's gambling place, and seeing that the gunmen were there, went to the Hotel Metropolitan to locate Rosenthal.

Rose, it is further said, told the Grand Jury that Sullivan then returned to Webster's and told the gunmen where Rosenthal could be found. For several days it has been reported that Sullivan was on the point of confessing. His indictment for murder is anticipated.

The candidates are notified. We've got 'em well in line. No more we stand and hold our breaths for fear they might decline. Committee went to each in turn to break the solemn news. And each was kind enough to stop short about his views.

It was an impressive moment when men stood up in a row. And wondered what would happen if their favorite son said "no." But when he smiled so affably on each prospective guest, they knew that he was going to accede to their request.

AN HEIR BORN TO JOHN JACOB ASTOR

New York, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor, survivor of the Titanic disaster, in which her husband, the late John Jacob Astor, lost his life last April, gave birth to a son at 3:45 this morning. The new arrival has been named John Jacob Astor, after his father. The baby becomes a direct heir to $3,000,000 of the Astor fortune.

News of the arrival of the Astor baby was made known in a bulletin issued by Dr. Edwin B. Craig, the attending physician. The bulletin reads:

"Mrs. Astor has a son, born at 3:45 a. m. His name is John Jacob Astor. Mother and son are in good condition."

The fact that his father proved himself a hero in the Titanic disaster, stepping aside to let women and children take places in lifeboats and act the wife from whom the had parted was his little of less than a year, coupled with the large fortune which was provided for a posthumous child, have lent unusual interest to the arrival of the youngest Astor.

The new Astor boy will be one of the few children born with a fortune as large as $3,000,000 in its own right. Col. Astor had provided that, whether the child was a boy or girl, it should receive the same sum.

Even if the stork brought more than one child, Col. Astor's will also covered that contingency, as it read: "I bequeath such number of separate sums of $3,000,000 each as shall be equal to the number of my children who shall survive me, other than my son, Vincent Astor, and my daughter, Ava Mabel Astor."

The latter children are by Col. Astor's first wife, Mrs. Ava Louise Williams Astor.

Dr. Edwin B. Craig of 10 West 50th st. has been in constant attendance upon Mrs. Astor in the Astor mansion, 340 Fifth ave., for two weeks. Where there had been a dense crowd of the morbidly curious waiting for news of the birth of the Astor heir all yesterday afternoon and during the day for almost a week past, only a few pedestrians were going by today when Dr. Craig sent out word of the birth.

The arrival of the latest scion of the Astors has been awaited hourly for the past 10 days. Mrs. William H. Force and her daughter, Katherine, have been in constant attendance at the Astor home. The young mother's father, Mr. Force, had not arrived at the mansion when the baby was born. He got the news by telephone and sped to the house in a taxicab. He leaped out of the vehicle smiling from ear to ear and showing his teeth. Without saying a word, he started up the steps and fairly raced into the house.

The birth of a boy practically assures a contest of the Astor will. Even had there been no contest the child inherits $3,000,000 at the moment of coming into the world. But when the Astor will was probated and 35-Judge Glendon, counsel for Mrs. Astor accepted the probate of the will, he reserved the right to reopen the probate following the birth of an heir. Had the heir been a girl the matter of inheritance might have been adjusted without the necessity of contest.

"THE MILLION"

Opens Regular Season at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Aug. 19.

There is a million of fun in "THE MILLION," the farce that Henry W. Savage will offer at the Majestic theatre, Boston, commencing Monday, August 19. The million in the play is a lottery ticket that gets lost. It belongs to an artist. As soon as he learns that the lottery ticket he holds has won the prize he lights a cigar with a $100 bill. Then he promises thousands to certain of his close friends. But when it comes to carrying out these generous impulses he discovers that he has not the million.

A girl has given it away. That is she has given to a thief, to help him escape from the police, the blouse in which the artist had placed the lottery ticket. From this on everybody gets busy and in ways that make on-lookers bend double with laughter. The million is a bowl of glee, a delirium of delight. The play begins in that district in New York in which the artists have their studios. Studio life with its many comic aspects is glimpsed. Also there is a view of one of those institutions whose existence in New York is known to few besides the police and thieves. It is what is known as a fence. In the play this place is humorously presented, as the search for the lost blouse and the missing million leads there. A grand opera tenor has purchased the blouse as part of his stage wardrobe, so the chase trails to the room. Imagine the dismay of the tenor when his room is invaded by a lot of strangers of whose purpose he can get little idea. Then there is a scene in a road house in the suburbs of New York, for the blouse has reached that point, having been carried there on the roof of a taxi.

The artist and his model, and his friends and the girl who gave away the blouse, and the police, and some crooks and a lot of others, engage in the chase for that million.

Fun! There is fun in every minute of "The Million." And laughter, why its worth several million to laugh as

A Large Boulder Fell in Front of a Passenger Train Going at Fifty Miles an Hour.

AND IT WAS ALMOST MIRACULOUS THAT EVERYONE OF THE TWO HUNDRED PASSENGERS WERE NOT CRUSHED TO DEATH.

When you read such startling headlines in the daily papers, did you ever stop to think how many lives are being crushed out daily by stones in the bladders of hundreds of human beings, because no remedy was ever known to medical science that would remove them until bloodline was discovered; and since bloodline has been found to be a specific for this terrible affliction, it has had the most phenomenal sale throughout the East and West, of any remedy ever known. Thousands of bottles having been sold in a single day in many of the large cities.

If you are suffering with stone in the bladder, aching pains over hips, backache, sediment or deposit in urine, irritation of the bladder, pain in urinating, rheumatism, uric acid in the blood, sudden stoppage of the urine, highly colored or milky white urine, pass blood or mucus in urine, retention of urine, straining after urinating, thick or sluggish urine, cystitis, inflammation of bladder, catarrh of bladder, or urethritis, puffiness under eyes, voracious appetite, thirst, gall stones, gravel, pain in urethra, swollen ankles, dimmed vision, spots before the eyes, scanty urine, frequent calls, mouth dry, biliousness, crizzling, lumbago, weakness, loss of flesh, irregular heart action, ulceration of the bladder, skin pale, waxy and dry, bad odor of perspiration, don't delay, but send to your druggist and get a bottle of bloodline at once. If he does not keep bloodline, you can secure a six weeks' treatment, six bottles 50c. trial bottle and booklet 10c. from The Bloodline Laboratories, Boston, Mass.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

New York, Aug. 15.—McKay Edgar's hydro-aeroplane Maple Leaf, the challenger for the international cup, has been shipped to America via Southampton. The Maple Leaf developed a speed of fifty miles an hour in the trials at Cowes and is regarded in England as the fastest motor boat in the world.

New York, Aug. 14.—Dave Smith, the Australian middleweight champion is the latest pugilist arrived in New York. He is accompanied by his manager and his trainer, and declares himself ready for an active campaign in the ring.

Ansburn, N. Y., Aug. 14.—John Marzenski of Chocomaug, Erie County, died in the electric chair at 6:10 this morning. The electrocution was without incident.

Fairbanks, Alaska, Aug. 14.—Returns from one-third of the votes cast in Alaska, yesterday, indicate that James Wickert, progressive candidate for delegate to congress will be elected.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—One hundred supporters of the Cubs have sent a protest to President Lynch of the National League against his action in suspending John Evers, second baseman of the Cubs, for five days. They ask for the immediate reinstatement of Evers, in order that he may play in the series with New York beginning tomorrow.

Las Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—Again bitterly attacking the forces which contributed to the indictment and trial of Clarence S. Darrow, Earl Rogers, chief counsel for the lawyer charged with jury bribery, continued his argument before the jury today.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 14.—Thirty men of Troop D, Third Cavalry, were rushed by train to Columbus last night to reinforce the small garrison there. It was said that many threats had been made by the rebels at Pecos on account of the arrest of a smuggler who had shot an American soldier.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—That the International Typographical union, now holding its annual convention here, probably will take action on a resolution demanding nation-wide investigation by the union of the school text-books situation became known today.

RECIPES FOR CANAPES

VARIED ASSORTMENT THAT SHOULD SUIT ALL PALATES.

Chicken, of Course, Always the Most Popular, Though Anchovy, Caviar and Mayonnaise Are All Delicacies—Made With Hash.

Chicken Canapes.—Fry round slices of white bread, or toast them delicately, and then top each with a little minced chicken and sautéed mushrooms, seasoning delicately with salt, cayenne and butter. Set in the oven for five minutes and serve hot. The drumsticks of a large roast chicken and six mushrooms would make half a dozen of these delectable bites. If the chicken is dry, mix it with a little fresh cream or olive oil.

Cold Anchovy Canapes.—Pound anchovies to a smooth paste with a little butter and season with cayenne and lemon juice. Spread the paste on thin strips of hard toast about two inches wide, then sprinkle them with hard boiled egg, chopped almost to a powder. These are delicious supper bites.

Caviar Canapes.—Mix caviar to a cream with lemon juice and spread on thin strips of buttered toast. Sprinkle the bread in even rows with chopped hard boiled egg and minced onion, adding a dust of salt and cayenne. Another way is put a ring of onion on the bread and then drop a slice or two of hard boiled egg inside.

Mayonnaise Canapes.—Spread rounds of fried bread very thinly with anchovy paste and then cover with mayonnaise, to which have been added chopped capers, olives and onion. Serve cold, and garnish the dish with cream.

Hash Canapes.—Put a little ham or tongue with beef or mutton and chop almost to a paste. Add one tomato and a green pepper and season highly with cayenne; only heat the mixture thoroughly in butter if all the ingredients have hitherto been cooked, and serve on slices of hot buttered toast. Remember that any appetizing edible in the house may always be added to a meat hash, fish excepted.

Ham Canapes.—Rub chopped ham to a smooth paste, moistening it with cream or melted butter. Spread the paste on small rounds of fried bread, sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and cayenne or paprika, and brown in the oven.

Liver Canapes.—Sauté thinly sliced calf's liver in butter, not cooking it too much; season with salt and black pepper. Then fry a little thinly-sliced bacon. Put the liver, cut in narrow strips, on two-inch strips of buttered toast, then cross them with smaller strips of bacon. Add a small lump of butter to each canape, and put them in the oven for this to melt. Ornament the platter with watercress.

Making Cream Puffs.

Put two ounces of butter into a saucepan, add half a pint of water, bring to boiling point, add quickly half a pint of sifted flour, a pinch of salt, and one teaspoonful of sugar; stir well with a wooden spoon until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan; remove from the fire, allow to cool, but not become cold; add four eggs, beating each one thoroughly in. Put away in a cool place for one hour. Put the mixture into a forcing bag with a plain tube and force on to a baking tin into small rounds; brush over with beaten egg and bake in a hot oven for half an hour. When cold split open on one side and fill them with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored to taste. Sprinkle powdered sugar over the top.

Vegetable Sausage.

Three carrots, four onions, two parsnips, one half pint split red lentils, two eggs, one-half pound bread crumbs, sage, parsley, garlic, salt and pepper. Boil the vegetables and mash fine; cook the lentils until soft; pound them well; add to the mashed vegetables, together with a little boiled sage, chopped parsley, a small portion of finely chopped garlic, salt and pepper; mix the eggs and bread crumbs; add a portion to the other ingredients; make up into pieces about the size of ordinary sausages; roll in egg and bread crumbs; fry in boiling oil until brown.

Stuffed Ham.

Select a freshly cured ham and have bone removed. Fill cavity with stuffing made of bread crumbs, tie up securely and inclose ham in a paste of flour and water to keep juice from escaping. Tie in a pudding bag or cloth, have ready a pot of boiling water and let ham boil slowly about two hours. When boiled sufficiently, remove the crust, pare skin off carefully, so as not to injure the shape of the ham, put it in a roasting pan, sprinkle with bread crumbs, set in moderate oven to roast.

Pineapple Sandwich.

One cup of pineapple, juice and pulp, three-fourths of a cup of sugar, juice of half a lemon, lady fingers; cook the pineapple, sugar and lemon juice until thick; let it cool, spread upon the lady fingers or sponge cake. Press together in pairs.

Dates and Ginger Sandwich.

Chop the dates and preserved ginger, moisten with syrup from the ginger jar and a little lemon juice; cook with a little water or not, to a smooth paste; cool; when cold spread the mixture upon thinly sliced bread and cut in diamond shapes.

LIST OF THE CANDIDATESRepublicans Have a Full Ticket in Each Ward, but Democrats are Shy in Three Wards.The time allotted for the declaration of candidates having expired, several vacancies already exist. While the politicians of republican profession have been comparatively busy, their democratic brethren have failed to take cognizance of the primary law to any appreciable extent. There are no declared candidates for representative in ward 1, 4 and 5 and in ward 2
the two democrats have declared themselves for the three places. It is probable that all vacancies in both parties will be filled by the writing of names at the primaries.As a result of the supposed lethargy active politicians are clamoring for a change in the primary law. They, particularly, the republicans claim that it is unjust for an avowed candidate to dodge the filing of a declaration and the consequent fee of $2 and to then enter the lists through the primary itself with one cost.The progressive politicians who favor the primary law will recommend that the primary law be amended so that every candidate whose name finally goes to the people on a ballot will be required to pay the fee or that no person may participate in the contests if he has not declared his intention within the time specified.In ward 1 there will be a contest among the republicans for the two representative nominations. Edward Percy Stoddard, William T. Entwistle, and George H. Sanderson have filed declarations. William H. Gallagher will oppose Mr. Stoddard for ward moderator. Joseph P. Hett and Eben H. Haisdel are the candidates to become delegates to the state republican convention. The democrats have not announced a candidate for any of the offices.

Six republicans are out for the three representative seats in ward 2.

They are representative Lewis W.
Brewster, Arthur J. Rutledge, Durpee
Wood, Michael Quinn, Frank J. Phil-brick, and Edwin B. Prime, the latter being the progressive candidate.
Azariah C. Willey, and Hon. William E. Marvin, a former mayor, are the two democrats who will run for the three positions. Guy E. Corey, republican is the only candidate for moderator. Howard O. Nelson, and Attorney John W. Kelley are desirous of going to the state republican convention, and Mr. Willey, and Mr. Marvin and John H. Dowd to the democratic convention.In ward 3 three democrats will fight for the two representative nominations. They are William N. Moran a former city clerk, Charles A. Badger, brother of Mayor Daniel W. Badger, and Stanton M. Trueman, a former alderman. There are also three republican candidates Ernest Holmes a progressive, Richmond P. Margeson, and Charles Hiram Hays, the veteran Plains farmer. Thomas A. Ward and John Hallam are desirous of going to the republican convention, and coun-cillman John Leary and Attorney John L. Mitchell to the democratic gathering.Ward 4 has two republican candidates for one seat in the house W. J.
Clark and Lamont Hilton, former city clerk. Herbert C. Wallace is the republican candidate for moderator and Sherman T. Newton is the candidate for delegate to the republican convention. Neither in this ward or in ward 5 have the democrats declared a candidacy. Representative Herman A.
Clark is the candidate for reelection in ward 5, Charles W. Brewster for moderator, and Captain William H. White
for delegate to the republican convention.ITEMS OF INTEREST TO a cruise in the Sea of Marmora.THE SERGEANT IS BACK

The many friends of Sergeant "Patrick" McAvoy, U. S. M. C., will be pleased to know of his recent return to the local yard after a trial tour of duty in Cuba. Sergeant McAvoy is known among his friends as the "Pekin" warrior and attains this nickname from the fact that he was among the first to go through the celebrated Chinese Gate in Peking in the war of1900. Mr. McAvoy was commended for his bravery on that occasion and was a close friend of Major Leon-and recently at this yard.He reports a pleasing tour of duty on this last occasion and speaks of the battle of El Cuaro Cuba, as the principal engagement of the campaign, on which occasion the boys from this reservation were much in evidence.MADE HIT
AT ELIOTHandtub Franklin Pierce a Feature in the Home
Week Parade.The famous old handtub Franklin Pierce was one of the features of the Old Home Week parade held at Eliot today. Though the battle scared machine needed paint badly and Capt.
Muhmore and his gallant red shirt crew were missing the old tub was viewed with interest by many of the people of the town, especially several of the old time mechanics who were laboring for Uncle Sam at the navy yard in the days when the tub furnished fire protection for the government reservation.The drive Albert W. Norwell Lybo drove the machine modestly recognized the applause and cheering that came his way. Capt. Muhmore considered it a great honor for any man to drive the old hand tub in a street parade or to handle a crew that works the brakes.PORTSMOUTH

Fire Insurance

When the Fire Fiend

sets his foot upon your building, and brings into your home that loss and trouble incident to every fire, you need not worry
if your house and goods are fully insured. But if this is not the case, there is surely cause for apprehension. Insure today; don't delay; the fire may come tonight.CONNER & CO.
